Juliet Russell is a music creative, specialising in voice. Her skills as a creative director, performer, vocal arranger and vocal coach have led her to work with Grammy, BAFTA, BRIT, Mercury Prize, Emmy and MTV Europe award winning artists. Adept at co-creating outstanding, memorable performances, she is the vocal coach on BAFTA winning shows The Voice UK and Michael McIntyre's Big Show, as well as shows for Netflix and Apple TV. She has led choirs and created choral arrangements for Paloma Faith, Alt-j, Philip Selway (Radiohead), First Dates, Dancing On Ice, Glastonbury, Latitude festival, Saatchi & Saatchi and Greenpeace. Passionate about artist development, Juliet excels at guiding singers to find their own unique voice and creativity, building confidence, musicality and authentic, sustainable performance skills. Rooted in practice, she distills contemporary voice science, creating practical exercises - often sharing snippets of these on Instagram on Tuesdays - which in turn have informed the creation of a new vocal coaching app, launching in 2025.
